The History of Flying Cross Farm

We are often asked about the history of Flying Cross Farm, especially about the Log Cabin. Mary called Miriam Nay Tinnell, who is the daughter of Joe Nay. Joe grew up on this farm, and his Great-Great-Grandfather was the builder. The cabin was built around 1833 by James Newton Nay, who lived in Skylight and was born in the early 1800s. He died in 1883, and his son, Latimore Trigg Nay, who was born in the cabin, stayed on with his family. Latimore raised 8 children on the farm, and put siding on the cabin to preserve the logs. When Joe lived in the cabin from 1924-1930, he did not realize it was a log house, as the siding covered the logs.

The farm was a working farm in the 1800 and 1900s, with about 100 chickens in a coop between the house and big barn (we think along the road going to the barn), a Ham House over towards what is now the garden, a Sorghum Shed next to the big barn, and a huge garden near the pond. There was an icehouse built into the side of the hill in the front field. Also located in the front field was a double corn crib and a grainery. Horses and cows were housed in the big barn. Cows to the right and horses to the left. Joe's grandfather was a superb farmer, and raised oats and wheat in the fields.

When it was time to grind the sorghum, a horse was hitched to a grinding wheel, and they ground the sorghum down by the pond. There was also a working spring, which now feeds the pond. Although there was a well near the house, the Nays carried their drinking water from the spring.

Joe's Grandfather, Trigg, worked for Mr. Axton who lived at the end of Axton Lane in a house that still stands. Mr. Axton made his fortune selling & manufacturing cigarette & cigars. "Twenty Grand" was the name of his most famous brand, and also the name of a racehorse Mr. Axton owned. While Joe's father, Ernest stayed home and farmed what is now Flying Cross, Trig earned $2.50/day in the 1920s working for Mr. Axton. This at a time when the going rate was $.50/day!

The house was always full, and the Nays kept boarders who lived further down Highway 42 at the Belknap Farm, so they would be close to Liberty School (yes- the same one that still stands at the end of Liberty Lane!) and were able to walk the mile to school... Snow, sleet, hail or rain, they got there!

There were also "peddlers" that would come by to sell their wares, and often sleep in the hallway before the long trek back to Louisville the next morning. Joe remembers "Mitler & O'Dell" (still Louisville families) selling Raleigh products, and the Karems selling fabric.

The Anderson family bought the farm in the 1950s, and Allen Northcutt purchased it from them in 1989.

WELCOME COMPETITORS !

Thanks to all of you for coming to our horse trials. Whether you are from far away or right down the road, we greatly appreciate you visiting and sharing your weekend with us. In the mid-nineties, Allen Northcutt set out to create his vision of having a place where horses and riders could find "every type of fence imaginable." Today Allen's dream has turned into the gift he has provided for this community, which we are all so lucky to be able to share.

Allen's mind never stops, as new jumps are constantly appearing on his farm, and he strives to make Flying Cross the best that it can be. We are especially proud again this year of our renditions of Allen's historic barn and incredible indoor and running on the old "classic" Flying Cross track over the picture frame and into the woods! Cathy has created a new coffin and some other fun stuff. Have a great time jumping them!! We enjoy putting this on as much as (we hope!) you all enjoy coming. Each year our community comes together and provides the extraordinary support we need to take on such a task. We hope that the weather is kind to us, that everyone has an enjoyable weekend, and that your rides are fun, safe, and that you leave with a little bling!

Our cool party will be happening this year! Competitors have a ticket in their packet- please come and enjoy dinner from Mark's Feed Store and win some cool prizes. Our last two prizes are always free stabling and free entry for 2023!! Also... be sure to vote for your choice for our Flying Cross Farm Spirit Award.

Generosity, kindness, community spirit and a sense of adventure! Nominate the rider, parent, groom, or friend with you who embodies that spirit! We will put a box at the mobile secretary's office.

In the Flying Cross spirit of helping our friends, we have always named a recipient (or two) each year that we all generously contribute to. We have helped individuals and non-profits through the kindness of our competitors and friends. This year we have chosen a fellow Area VIII USEA Horse Trials. Putting on a recognized horse trials is a huge task, and we salute all our fellow organizers, secretaries, volunteers, course builders and designers, announcers, officials, EMTs, and the countless individuals that make our sport possible. Through the last 43 years (my time in Area VIII), I have counted at least 20 horse trials held on farms that we have lost. We are so fortunate to have Allen and his commitment to our sport that allows us to do what we do each year. We appreciate you Allen and thank you for the gift you have given us.

So... have fun, be safe, and most of all..... Thank A Volunteer!!!
Mary, Whitney, and Heidi
